Ensure the Record of Achievement tells us about learners' capabilities

Redesign the Record of Achievement to let students demonstrate all their achievements, including academic, extracurricular and work experience. Family, employers or tertiary providers would be able to see clear information on a diverse range of achievements.

Things to think about:

- ▷ How should information from NZQA and from students be combined and displayed within the Record of Achievement?
- ▷ How could information created by the student be verified?
- ▷ What other ways could the Record of Achievement show what people can do in terms of skills and abilities?
- ▷ What evidence should students take with them from their time doing NCEA to further study and the workforce?

NCEA – Have your say Māu hei kōrero

Talk to us about the future of NCEA.

Over the next few months, we aim to talk with lots of New Zealanders, from a range of backgrounds, to discuss their experiences with NCEA – the challenges, the successes and what we can do better in the future.

Ways to have your say

-  Complete a survey online
-  Come along to a regional hui or public workshop. Book online or text us on 5811
-  Post your views on social media #NCEAReview #NCEAHaveYourSay
-  Submit a detailed submission online
-  Lead a group discussion on ways NCEA can be strengthened and use the findings to write a group submission
- Enter the NCEA Make Your Mark competition. There are four opportunities to tell us what you think about NCEA. There are over $35,000 in prizes or grants up for grabs!
